

A NORDIC CHILDHOOD

The Learning Collection

A Quiet Start

FOUR REAL PAGES FROM THE LEARNING COLLECTION

Print one. Begin together. Notice what holds their attention.

Begin with one real page

You do not need to print all four.

Choose the page closest to something your child is already noticing. Curiosity is a better starting point than a plan.

- Small brave things: Sisu challenges when courage, trying, or a quiet win feels close
- How many did you see? for seeing five before writing the numeral 5
- Meet A for shape, sound, and a first unhurried encounter
- My words in the world for keeping a word, label, caption, or message

A simple way to begin

- 1 Print one page. Choose Actual size or Fit to page in your printer settings.
- 2 Read the grown-up prompt before you begin.
- 3 Begin together. Stop when your child has had enough.
- 4 Keep the page if it carries something worth remembering.

No page is a test.

One page cannot predict which part of the full collection will interest your child. This is simply a small, usable beginning.

THE FULL LEARNING COLLECTION

Seven books, 313 pages, ages 5 to 8. Available at erikastrand.com

Sisu challenges

Small acts of quiet courage. Pick one when you feel ready. There is no rush.

Try one new food. Even just a small bite.

Say hello first to someone before they say it to you.

Do something by yourself that you usually ask for help with.

Tell someone you love one thing you love about them.

When the weather is hard, stay outside for five minutes anyway.

Ask for help, even when you would rather do it alone.

How many did you see?

Look first. Count only if you need to.

The grown-up covers one group with another page. Look for two seconds, answer, then switch.

Five in a new arrangement

GROWN-UP PROMPT

Cover one group. Show the other briefly, hide it, then ask: "How many?"

Notice: whether five is recognized as a whole or counted one by one

LETTER A

Meet A

Antler begins with 'a'.

TRY

GROWN-UP PROMPT

Say 'antler' slowly, then name all three pictures. Let the child listen before choosing.

Notice: whether the child attends to the beginning sound rather than the whole word

My words in the world

Keep the meaning, the child's part, and what the writing did.

WHAT HAPPENED WHEN SOMEONE READ OR USED THEM?

GROWN-UP PROMPT

Record what the words did in the world, not how correct they were. Preserve the child's wording and chosen contribution beside any conventional adult spelling.

Notice: the connection the child makes between writing and its effect
